ISLAMIC CULTURE COURSES

Zayed House for Islamic Culture (ZHIC) provides learners with courses in various languages through which it endeavors to develop spiritual, moral and social values. As well as enhancing ideals of tolerance, compassion and coexistence with different human cultures. The courses fall into five basic educational levels of which materials are prepared in cooperation with entities of expertise in the Islamic studies and scientific research.

Objective of the courses:

- Introducing the essence of the Islamic culture.
- Preparing learners to understand the basics of Islam.
- Teaching learners the educational and practical principles of Islam.
- Establishing values of moderation and temperance in individual's life; regarding justice, goodness, honesty, open-mindedness, coexistence, and individual and community sustainable development.

Courses topics per level:

- Level 1: aims to teach learners rites of ablution (Wudu) and prayers in theory and practice while explicating spiritual and sensible benefits thereof.
- Level 2: aims to strengthen individual willpower of goodness; through a holistic concept on Islam as to secure rights along with duties in human dealings based on equality , mutual respect, and bearing of individual and communal responsibility.
- Level 3: aims to bond learners with the Holy Book and Prophetic traditions as sources of spiritual guidance, Islamic teachings, instruction, and human values determining relationship with God, individuals, society and the universe at large.
- Level 4: aims to instill virtues and etiquette such as cleanliness, presentability, graciousness and compassion. Through aspects of Prophet Mohammed life, character and dealings with people of all kind.
- Level 5: aims to explore the concept of faith and its closest relation with true human happiness. While emphasizing the significance of high moral as a social requisite contributing to coherent human community building.
